How can faith communities and individuals help prisoners and their families strengthen bonds, where appropriate, and so live good lives together in the future?

in partnership with

How do we respond to Jesus' call to 'visit' those in prison, helping to overcome the isolation, stigma, stress and exclusion which wound the lives of prisoners, their families and our whole society?

At “I Was In Prison...” you will find out how people of faith can support prisoners and their families. It is for anyone who would like to know more about support and advocacy for those affected by the criminal justice system.

The Welcome Directory

GOOD INVESTMENT

The day will be opened by Bishop Patrick McKinney, Roman Catholic Bishop of Nottingham, and feature contributions from Pact, Catholic prison chaplains, the Welcome Directory (which helps faith communities welcome people leaving prison), and Caritas (the diocese's agency for social action). We extend a warm welcome to all including those who have lived experience of the criminal justice system. A simple lunch and refreshments will be provided.
